

LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES

Chair Rosa DeLauro

Fiscal Year 2023 Appropriations Bill At-A-Glance

Provides $226.8 billion, a 7 percent increase, to create jobs and support workers, lower the cost of living for middle class and working families, and bolster biomedical research and public health infrastructure

Creates Better-Paying Jobs and Protects Workers

- Ensures workers have a voice in their workplace and protects their rights to collective bargaining with $299 million for the National Labor Relations Board, an increase of $25 million
- Invests in job training and apprenticeship programs with $10.5 billion for the Employment and Training Administration, including $285 million for Registered Apprenticeships and $65 million to continue and expand Strengthening Community College Training Grants
- Supports workers with $1.9 billion for Worker Protection agencies, including the Wage and Hour Division and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration
- Combats abusive labor practices abroad with $116 million for the International Labor Affairs Bureau

Lowers the Cost of Living for Hardworking Families

- Expands affordable early-learning programs with $8 billion for the Child Care and Development Block Grant, $12 billion for Head Start, and $315 million for Preschool Development Grants
- Grows opportunity with critical investments in education, including for high-poverty schools with $18.4 billion for Title I Grants and for students with disabilities with $15.5 billion for Special Education programs
- Increases access to post-secondary education with more funding for Career, Technical and Adult Education, Higher Education, and Student Financial Assistance, including a $500 increase in the maximum Pell Grant
- Supports students at Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs), Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), Hispanic Serving Institutions, and Tribally Controlled Colleges and Universities with over $1 billion
- Includes $286 million for the health services covered by Title X, including family planning

Bolsters Biomedical Research and Public Health Infrastructure

- Accelerates the pace of scientific breakthroughs for diseases such as ALS, Alzheimer's, diabetes, and cancer with $47.5 billion for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and $1.5 billion for the Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health
- Supports public health efforts and helps states and local governments strengthen infrastructure and capacity with $9.2 billion for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)
- Addresses our most urgent health crises with over $1 billion for maternal and child health, $2.8 billion for mental health, and $4.2 billion for substance use treatment
- Includes funding for gun violence prevention research at NIH and CDC
- Makes strides to reduce persistent and unacceptable health disparities with an increase of $57 million for research at NIH