

THE 2021 TRUMP BUDGET HURTS THE ENVIRONMENT

President Trump's fiscal year 2021 budget proposes massive cuts and outright eliminations of discretionary programs critical to addressing the climate crisis and protecting the environment.

Weakens Environmental Protections

Cuts funding for the Environmental Protection Agency by $2.4 billion, or 26.5 percent, with steep cuts to hazardous waste site cleanup, research and development, and safe drinking water programs.

Threatens Public Lands and Wildlife

Slashes the Bureau of Land Management by $135 million, or 11 percent, the Fish and Wildlife Service by $265 million, or 16 percent, and the National Park Service by $585 million, or 17 percent.

Targets Environmental Sustainability

Reduces funding for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers by $5.97 billion, or 22 percent, jeopardizing environmentally-sustainable water and energy infrastructure and energy-efficient solutions.

Imperils Climate Research

Cuts funding for National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Climate research by $85 million, or 50.5 percent, including the elimination of NOAA Climate Competitive Research funding, and cuts NASA Earth Science funding by $203.7 million, or 10.3 percent.

Eliminates Transformational Energy Investments

Zeroes out the Department of Energy's Advanced Research Projects Agency-Energy and slashes the Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy program by $2.1 billion, undermining clean energy technology.

Fact Sheet Prepared by the:

House Appropriations Committee
Chairwoman Nita M. Lowey

@appropsdems
appropriations.house.gov

